On 19 and 20 April the Rudd Government is holding its 2020 Summit of 1,000 Australians from a range of backgrounds to 'harness the best ideas for building a modern Australia that is ready for the challenges of the 21st century'. A number of ANU academics is among those selected to participate. This seminar brings together some of these people across a range of subject areas to discuss their views on the summit and outline the issues they plan to raise.
